Our Website's Terms of Use

This website and its content are managed by Alexandra Pedro Marketing. By browsing or in any way interacting with our website or its content, you agree to the terms of use listed below as well as those on our privacy policy and our cookie policy. If you have any questions or complaints regarding our website or these terms of use, feel free to contact us.

Our Content

All content on this website is owned by Alexandra Pedro Marketing unless stated otherwise, except for the royalty-free photographs used as cover images for some of our pages. Content may change at any time for any reason without notice. Feel free to be inspired by it but do not reproduce or sell it (or parts of it) as being your own.

We do our best to provide you with useful information but we cannot ensure it is relevant to any specific situation. There may also be occasional typographic or grammatical errors. Therefore, your use of the content of this website is entirely at your own risk. We will not be liable for any direct, indirect, special, incidental or consequential damages or other consequences from the use of the content provided.

Our Links

This website includes occasional links to other websites that we believe will be useful for you. However, we want you to be aware that we are not responsible for those websites to which our website links. You, as the user, are responsible for reading their policies. This is because we cannot regularly monitor all the websites we link to and, therefore, may not notice when the content linked to changes.

Our Comment Sections

When you choose to comment on one of our comment sections, you give us permission to use the content of your comment however we please, without having to pay commissions of any kind for that use. This includes showcasing your comment in our comment section or as part of future educational content we produce.

While we cannot ban you from our website, we have sole discretion to approve or reject comments for any reason without notice.

You are responsible for the content of the comments you post on our comment sections. While all comments require our approval before being posted on our website, we will not be liable for offensive or copyright-infringing material that they include since it is not feasible for us to check all our comments to the utmost detail.

We allow users to register with Commento to use our comment sections. We cannot turn this feature off. It allows registered users to insert a name when posting a comment but you can also leave comments anonymously if you prefer not to register. To learn more about Commento and the cookie it uses to keep you logged in, check our cookie policy.

When you register with Commento, you are responsible for preventing unauthorised use of your account. We do our best to keep our Commento server and its data safe and you can read more about that in our privacy policy.

Your Actions

Do not perform harmful activity. You will not be liable for any indirect damages that may occur due to your harmful activity.

Any unlawful use of our website is also prohibited, including both unlawful behaviour and illegal activity.

Our Prices

You are not able to purchase our services directly through our website. We quote each project only after an initial conversation with the potential customer. However, we will soon add a section for you to create a provisional quote for the services you are looking for. This quote does not necessarily match the final quote you will receive from us upon further discussion.

These Terms

Changes to these terms of use may be made at our sole discretion without notice.

These terms of use are governed by the laws of the Republic of Ireland. We agree to the sole and exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of county Tipperary for any claims or disputes relating to these terms of use, subject to possible appeal to the Supreme Court of Ireland in Dublin, Ireland. Alternatively, if we both agree, we may use the Online Dispute Resolution official EU website available in this link.
